APPENDIX C – Member, Director and Senior Executive Staff Declaration Form	12

1. Statement of intent

This policy sets out the detailed process that needs to be followed by members, directors, senior staff and local governors (governors) to avoid any potential conflict of interests.

The Trust is committed to undertaking, and being seen to undertake, all its activities to the highest possible standards of propriety and integrity expected of a public body. The Trust, its staff, members, directors, senior staff and governors will act fairly, honestly and with integrity in all aspects of what they do. They must uphold the highest standards of public conduct and, at all times, act in the interests of the Trust.

All members, trustees and governors are specifically expected to apply the Seven Principles of Public Life established by the Nolan Committee:

- Selflessness
- Integrity
- Objectivity
- Accountability
- Openness
- Honesty
- Leadership

Conflicts of interest (whether real or perceived) cannot always be eliminated but they need to be identified so that they can be avoided or managed appropriately with this policy.

2. Purpose of the policy

The purposes of this policy are:

- to ensure that the members, directors, senior staff and governors comply with their legal duties;
- to protect the integrity of the Trust's decision-making processes;
- to enable all outside parties dealing with the Trust to have confidence in its integrity;
- to protect the integrity and reputations of members, directors, governors and senior staff.

3. Application of the Policy

This policy applies to all Richard Huish Trust (RHT) Members, Directors, senior staff and Governors and sets out the minimum requirements that must be met. On any occasions where members, directors, senior staff or governors are concerned that a particular circumstance or event, whilst complying with this policy, may still lead to a potential or actual conflict of interest (whether real or perceived), they should consult with the clerk to their board to seek further advice.

4. Definitions

Conflict of interests

A conflict of interests is any situation in which a personal interest (or a person connected to a director), or interests that they owe to another body, may (or may appear to) influence or affect that person's decision making.

A conflict of interest will occur when there is a divergence between an individual's private interests or loyalties (or those of any related parties) and the interests of the Trust and its academies such that an independent observer might reasonably question whether the individual's actions or decisions are determined by considerations of personal/professional gain, whether financial or otherwise. A conflict of interest is a set of circumstances that creates a risk that an individual's ability to discharge their duty to act in the best interests of the Trust is compromised because their judgement could be impaired or influenced by a secondary interest.

Conflicts might occur due to the possibility of individual or related parties having:

- direct or indirect financial interests;
- non-financial or personal/professional interests;
- conflicts of loyalty where decision makers may have competing loyalties between the Trust and the other person or entity.

Further context for directors

Directors of a charitable company limited by guarantee have two sets of similar, and largely overlapping, duties to avoid conflicts of interest. The first duty comes from the charity law duty imposed on the directors by virtue of their position as charity law trustees. The second duty comes from company law and is imposed on directors by virtue of their position as a company director.

Directors have a legal obligation to act in the best interests of the Trust and in accordance with the Trust's Articles of Association (its governing document) and to avoid situations where there is an actual conflict of interests or a potential conflict of interests where it is reasonably perceived that an actual conflict could emerge.

Articles 97-98 of the Articles of Association impose an obligation to disclose any actual or potential conflicts of interest and withdraw from discussions of the Board where it is possible that a conflict of interests may arise.

Related party

The Charities SORP considers the following 'natural persons' as related parties:

- A. any trustee or member of an academy trust;
- B. a person who is the donor of any land to the trust (whether the gift was made on or after the establishment of the trust); and
- C. any person who is:
 - I. a child, parent, grandchild, grandparent, brother or sister of any such trustee/member (A) or donor (B) of land;
 - II. an officer, agent or a member of the key management personnel of the trust;
 - III. the spouse or civil partner of any of the above persons (A, B, C1 and C2);
 - IV. carrying on business in partnership with any of the above persons (A, B, C1, C2 and C3);
 - V. a person, or a close member of that person's family, who has control or joint control over the academy trust;
 - VI. a person, or a close member of that person's family, who has significant influence over the academy trust.

There are a variety of potential interests that members, directors, senior staff and governors may have that could potentially conflict with their duty to always act in the best interests of the Trust. Those listed above must be declared if they have such an interest or if any related party has such an interest. However, there may be other potential interests or conflicts that exist not listed above which should also be declared.

Personal relationships and family members

Members, directors, senior staff and governors should declare if they are related to, or have a partner, who is a member of staff of another member, director, senior staff member or governor.

Those who have declared a partner or family member who is a member of staff must not be involved in the recruitment, selection, appraisal, promotion or other processes involving the member of staff or where conflict may exist.

Applicants for jobs within the Trust will be asked to declare whether are related to, any current employees, pupils or governors.

Pecuniary interest

Pecuniary (monetary/financial/business) interests include, but are not restricted to:

- a financial interest in a company or organisation they or any nominee of theirs is the beneficial owner of more than 1% of the issued capital (e.g. shares, bonds etc.);
- directorships, partnerships and employments with businesses irrespective of whether or not they trade with the Trust, its academies or subsidiary companies.

Non-Pecuniary Interests

Non-pecuniary (non-monetary/financial) interests include, but are not restricted to:

- being the partner or relative of other members of staff or directors, members or governors;
- pursuit of a business interest/opportunity which is in potential conflict with the best interests of the Trust;
- where any partner or relative would have a pecuniary interest if they were a member of staff;
- a professional or legal responsibility to someone else or some other body which is in potential conflict with the best interest of the Trust;
- having a beneficial interest in a trust which is in potential conflict with the best interests of the Trust;
- membership of a society or other organisation, including other trusteeships and whether there is a trading relationship with the Trust, its academies or subsidiary companies;
- holding another public office;
- close personal relationships with people or organisations that may, or do, undertake business with the Trust or its academies;
- a potential benefit in the future, such as the offer of employment or other benefits, from an organisation that undertakes or could undertake work on behalf of the Trust or its academies or subsidiary companies;
- having the right to appoint or remove a majority of the board or governing body.

All pecuniary and business interests of members and directors will be published on the Trust's website as required by the Education Skills Funding Agency (ESFA). Interests of local governors will be published on the academy's website.

5. Declaring interests

Members

Members will be asked by the clerk, on a periodic basis, to renew their declared interests and note any updates to related parties. Members meet infrequently but are expected to note any updates at those meetings of potential conflicts at the start of the meeting so they can be minuted and addressed as needed in the meeting. If members become aware of any changes to their declared interests between meetings they are expected to contact the clerk and advise of the changes so they can be reflected on the published register. The clerk is responsible for keeping the register up to date and ensuring it is published on the Trust's website.

Members are required to use the form in Appendix C to record their potential conflicts of interest and related parties.

Directors

Directors will be asked by the clerk, at the start of every full board meeting, if there are any changes to their currently declared interests as recorded on the published register. The current register will be a standing paper at full board meetings. Directors are expected to review this each time it is received and to formally confirm any changes at the board meeting, or to declare any circumstantial conflicts that may be relevant to the agenda items in any meeting so they can be addressed appropriately during the meeting. Individual registers will be circulated on an annual basis to directors to sign to declare that they remain accurate. The clerk is responsible for keeping the register up to date and ensuring it is published on the Trust's website.

Directors are required to use the form in Appendix C to record their potential conflicts of interest and related parties.

Senior staff

Senior staff are required to provide details for the register of declared interests in line with the requirements of the Academy Trust Handbook (ATH). The clerk will request updates to their declared interests on an annual basis. They are expected to declare any potential conflicts related to agenda items at the outset of any meeting they attend so appropriate action can be taken in that meeting. The clerk is responsible for keeping the register up to date and ensuring it is published on the Trust's website. Clerks to the local governing bodies are responsible for updating the interests of headteachers/principal on their academy's website.

An academy headteacher/principal are required to use the form in Appendices A and B to record their potential conflicts of interest.

Senior executive staff in the central team are required to use the form in Appendix C to record their potential conflicts of interest and related parties.

Governors

Governors will be asked to update their declared interests on an annual basis at the first board meeting of the academic year by their clerk. They are expected to advise the clerk should this change during the year and to note any potential conflicts at the start of any meeting they attend so it can be addressed accordingly in the meeting. The clerk is responsible for maintaining and up to date local register and to ensure this is published at least annually on their academy's website within the governance section. This is a mandatory requirement for clerks to comply with.

Governors are required to use the form in Appendices A and B to record their potential conflicts of interest.

Confidential information

If a member, director, senior staff member or governor believes that there is a potential conflict which is inappropriate to be shown on the register for personal reasons they must set out a case to the Governance Specialist who will consult with the CEO and Chair of the Directors whether that interest should not be included on the register. Members, directors and senior executive staff are required to declare related parties, unless these are specifically and overtly related to their role they will not be publicly disclosed if declared. There will be a presumption that all declarations are shared unless there are circumstances that apply which would make this inappropriate and if the redaction from the register cannot lead to a potential conflict of interest occurring or would prevent it from being managed appropriately. It should be noted that it would be a disciplinary offence for any member of staff who legitimately has access to the register to disclose the contents of it except where this is necessary for them to properly discharge their duties.

Mechanisms for declaring interests

All governance meetings should have a standard agenda item at the beginning of each meeting to declare any actual or potential conflicts of interests which are listed as an item to be discussed on the agenda, before the item is discussed. If a member, director, senior staff member or governor is uncertain if they are conflicted they should declare the issue and discuss it as a matter of course and a decision can be made accordingly. Guidance can also be sought prior to meetings from the clerk. If a conflict should become apparent during a meeting, that was not previously anticipated at the start or prior to the meeting, this should be declared immediately so appropriate action can be taken. Action could include withdrawing from the meeting, discussion or decision-making or voting that takes place concerning that conflict or a related party's interest(s), this must be recorded clearly in the minutes.

Organisation of meetings where a there is a disclosed interest

Where a there is a previously disclosed an interest, and the chair or clerk is satisfied that the interest is relevant to an item on the agenda for a meeting, the person concerned may not be sent the papers in respect of that item. This should be explained to the person concerned and steps taken to inform others that the relevant information and paper(s) should not be shared with that person due to a known or potential conflict. Such items should be marked as confidential, retained appropriately and recorded as confidential minutes as deemed necessary by the clerk in consultation with the chair, or vice chair if the chair is the conflicted person.

Management of conflicts of interests in meetings

This section of the policy should be read in conjunction with Articles 97-98 of the Trust's Articles of Association where directors are mentioned.

It is the policy of the Trust that all directors and senior staff attending meetings must keep to the absolute minimum all unavoidable conflicts of interest between the interests of the Trust on the one hand and the personal, professional and business interests of the member, director, senior staff member or governor concerned, and of persons connected with them, on the other. This includes avoiding as far as possible perceptions of conflicts of interest, as well as potential and actual conflicts of interest.

In the course of meetings of the Trust and all other activities, all member, directors, senior staff governors and any other staff in attendance will be required to disclose any interests they have in a transaction or decision where they, their family, their employer or their close business or other associates will or may receive a benefit or gain or they have any other interest of a type identified by the Trust (e.g. personal relationship of any nature outside of the workplace).

If there is a failure to declare an interest that is known to the chair or of any such meeting/person responsible for organising such activities and/or the clerk, the chair or other such person or the clerk will declare that interest. After disclosure of any such interest, in the case of a meeting the person concerned will be asked to leave the room (unless expressly invited to remain, possibly in order to provide information on the matter in hand) whilst the matter is discussed. The person will not be counted in the quorum for that part of the meeting and will not be permitted to vote on the question. In the case of all other activities, the person concerned will not be permitted to participate in the consideration or discussion of the matter other than to disclose their conflict of interest.

All decisions of the Trust following the declaration of a conflict of interest will be reported in the minutes of the meeting. The report will record:

- the nature and extent of the conflict;

- an outline of the discussion;
- the actions taken to manage the conflict.

Where a person benefits from any such decision, this will (if the Trust's auditors advise this to be necessary) be reported in the annual report and accounts in accordance with relevant accounting requirements.

6. Transaction Reporting

As stated in the ATH all related party transactions must be reported to the ESFA and a specific form completed by the supplier. Prior approval from the ESFA must be sought when:

- a single proposed contract or agreement with a related party exceeds £20,000;
- a proposed contract or agreement of any value means the total value of contracts or agreements with the same related party exceeds £20,000 in a financial year.

A series of intended transactions with the same supplier can be submitted as a single request for approval, as long as sufficient detail about each transaction is included in the evidence provided.

7. How information will be processed

The Governance Specialist (clerk to the Trust Board) is responsible for maintaining the register of declared interests for members, directors and senior executive leaders in the central team. Information that is required will be published and shared internally only as needed. The Trust has discretion over the publication of the interests of other individuals including parent, spouse, civil partner, cohabitee and child in accordance with ESFA requirements.

Clerks to the local governing boards are responsible for maintaining the register of declared interests for governors and senior staff. Information that is required will be published and shared internally only as needed.

As a public authority, the Trust may be subject to requests made under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 either to provide this Policy or for information from the Register of Interests. Wherever possible, the Trust will answer any such requests without revealing the names of any individual who has made a declaration unless this information is part of the extract of the Register of Interests published on the Trust's website(s). If personal details of those who have made declarations are requested that are not already in the public domain, the Trust will, where appropriate, consult with those individuals before disclosing any additional personal information that may be in the public interest to disclose in accordance with this Act.

Any declaration of Interest will be processed in compliance with the data protection principles as set out in the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). The data will be processed to identify any potential, actual or perceived conflicts of interest in order to enable the Trust to avoid, or appropriately manage them, and to help protect the Trust's interests and also to protect the individuals concerned against allegations of acting in their own interests, rather than those of the Trust.

In general terms, if in any doubt, all members, directors, senior staff and governors are advised to declare an interest or potential interest for their protection. The data declared will primarily be used for the purposes outlined above and to ensure that the Trust's procurement and trading activity is fair to all parties involved and to help the Trust ensure that the highest standards of propriety and conduct are met, especially in respect of Connected Party transactions. However, members, directors, senior staff and governors should be aware that, in accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), personal data may be disclosed to external parties without needing specific consent during the normal course of the Trust's business activities, including where such purposes have been registered with the Information Commissioner's Office. This may be for accounting, analysis and audit purposes and also to prevent or detect crime, for example.

A person making a Declaration of Interest may at any time request a copy of their current declarations on application to the Governance Specialist or clerk. The data contained within Declarations of Interest forms and the Register of Interests or extracts thereof will be kept securely either in electronic format. Relevant extracts published on the Trust's websites will be made accessible to the general public as required by the ESFA as noted above.

8. Failure to follow this policy

Members, directors, senior staff and governors who do not follow this policy may be in breach of their duties, including the Trust's Code of Conduct, and may be subject to internal action (including disciplinary action for staff) within the Trust. In certain circumstances they may also be subject to external sanction, including being barred from undertaking the role of a company director, trustee and, in exceptional cases, being subject to criminal prosecution.

The ESFA may also issue a Financial Notice to Improve to the Trust when there is deemed to be irregular use of public funds or inadequate financial governance and management (including breaches of the duties, principles and requirements governing related party relationships and transactions). Failure to comply with this notice can, in exceptional circumstances, also result in the termination of the Trust's funding agreement.

If members, directors and governors or staff believe that any of their number are undertaking activity that leads to personal gain, they should report their concerns under the Trust's Whistleblowing Policy.

9. Key points of reference

This policy should be read with reference to:

Children and Stepchildren of you or your spouse / civil partner (over the age of 18)
Grandchildren and Step-grandchildren (over the age of 18)
Parents (and in-laws)
Grandparents (and in-laws)
Siblings (brother / Sister / Stepbrother / Stepsister / inlaws)

What do we mean by related parties?

Parties are considered to be related if one party has the ability to control the other party or exercise significant influence over the other party in making financial and operating decisions. In addition some family members or business connections of such people are also related parties.

The Charities SORP considers the following 'natural persons' as related parties:

- A. any trustee or member of an academy trust;
- B. a person who is the donor of any land to the trust (whether the gift was made on or after the establishment of the trust); and
- C. any person who is:
 - 1. a child, parent, grandchild, grandparent, brother or sister of any such trustee/member (A) or donor (B) of land;
 - 2. an officer, agent or a member of the key management personnel* of the trust;
 - 3. the spouse or civil partner of any of the above persons (A, B, C1 and C2);
 - 4. carrying on business in partnership with any of the above persons (A, B, C1, C2 and C3);
 - 5. a person, or a close member* of that person's family, who has control or joint control over the academy trust;
 - 6. a person, or a close member* of that person's family, who has significant influence over the academy trust.

Terms marked * above are defined as follows:

Key management personnel means those persons having authority and responsibility for planning, directing and controlling the activities of the trust, directly or indirectly, including any trustee (whether executive or otherwise) of the trust. This definition includes trustees and those members of staff who are the senior management personnel to whom the trustees have delegated significant authority or responsibility in the day-to-day running of the trust

Close member of a person's family refers to:

- a. that person's children or spouse;
- b. the children, stepchildren or illegitimate children of that person's spouse or domestic partner;
- c. dependents of that person; and
- d. that person's domestic partner who lives with them as husband or wife or in an equivalent same-sex relationship.

In addition the following entities, which are not 'natural persons', are classed as related parties:

- the entity and the academy trust are members of the same group (which means that each parent, subsidiary and fellow subsidiary is related to the others);
- one entity is an associate or joint venture of the other entity (or a member of the group in which the other entity is the parent or a member);
- both entities are joint ventures of the same third entity;
- one entity is a joint venture of a third entity and the other entity is an associate of the third entity;

- the reporting trust provides/receives key management personnel services to/from the entity;
- an entity that is controlled or jointly controlled by a person, or two or more persons, identified in A, B or C;
- an entity in which a person, or two or more such persons, identified in A, B or C, taken together, have a substantial interest* or significant influence* over the entity;

* An individual has a substantial interest or significant influence in an entity where that person, or two or more persons identified in A, B or C, taken together, have an interest in the equity share capital of that entity of a nominal value of more than one-fifth of that share capital, or is entitled to exercise, or control the exercise of, more than one-fifth of the voting power at any general meeting of that entity.

An academy trust is not necessarily related to another academy trust simply because a particular person happens to be a trustee of both. It will only be 'related' if the relationship means that one trust, in furthering its charitable aims, is under the direction or control of the trustees of another trust.

Connected academy trusts have common, parallel or related objects and activities. Within this category may be trusts which come together under one umbrella organisation or are part of a federated structure. It will be relevant to explain connections in the Trustees' annual report, but only related party transactions have to be disclosed in the note to the accounts, as explained later in this guide.

What is a related party transaction?

A related party transaction is a financial transaction between the related party and the trust. A related party transaction involves the transfer of assets or liabilities or the performance of services by, to or for a related party.

Related party transactions include:

- Purchases or sales of goods
- Donations of money or other assets
- Supply of services
- Provision of loans and guarantees.

Examples of related party transactions:

- Salaries and expenses paid to employees
- Expenses paid to Trustees/Members for travel to attend board meetings
- Reimbursement of costs incurred by Trustees/Members in purchasing goods for the trust
- Rental of a property by a Trustee/Member to the trust

- Overseas travel by a Trustee/Member to visit the work undertaken by the trust
- Employment of the son or daughter of a Trustee/Member/Key Management Personnel
- Donation made by a Trustee/Member to the trust
- The trust contracts the Accounting Officer's husband to undertake some PR for the Trust, which is his business.
- One of the Trustees/Members is a solicitor and a partner in a law firm, which provides the trust with pro-bono help with a new property lease
- A Trustee is also a trustee of another trust, which receives grants from your Trust
- The Trust has a trading subsidiary and lends money to the subsidiary to fund its working capital
- A funder provides funding and one of their Trustees/Member becomes a Trustee/Member of your Trust.

All related party transactions should be carefully considered so that the terms are appropriate and payments made in accordance with the agreed policies and procedures. Not all related party transactions have to be disclosed, but it is important to recognise various transactions as within this category. The next step will be to decide whether disclosure in the notes to the accounts is required.
